BY GUS MALBERT.

William Astoria Waldorf, he whom Harry Mathews derrickied into the Virginia League from Atlanta, promising the nice money providers in Newport News that he was the imperator of all the fling talent out loose around any and all tank stations, met the Colts yesterday. Mere formalities of shaking mitts, selecting corners and examining bandages were forgotten, and Willie Astor started in a hurry to fare for better or worse. It was worse, and as the sun glints through the slightly tilted blinds this glorious morning—that is, if it really happens to be glorious—you may read that Richmond won another game, the latest victory being 4 to 2.

Bull Powell left the yard swearing quietly under his breath that Charlie Strain should be nestling quietly behind ironbound doors. Charlie pitched, and Charlie not only hurled the Reach brand over in an entirely satisfactory manner, but on two occasions dramatically showed Bull the exit stations by undue interference with certain knocks that Bull had intended to be safe. Otherwise, Bull was entirely satisfied. He relieved his manager behind the platter and performed in far better fashion than his superior has ever done. With Mathews receiving the flingers, the Colts heretofore have been able to run wild on the paths, but not so yesterday. Bull's tugging arm was in splendid shape, and three Richmond speed marvels were nipped on their way to second.

Newport News started away to a brisk lead, scoring once in the fourth on two solid whacks and a sacrifice left by the energetic Powell. It was good that the visitors managed to check that once for after that there was no possible chance until the ninth. When the ninth rolled around the score was 4 to 1, with Strain traveling on an even keel. Tarleton managed to beat his roller to third in the closing chapter, and on Powell's out, went to second. Chastant made the second out, after which Geyer hit, scoring Tarleton.

Right here it might be of interest to the Griffithian to know that Tarleton hasn't touched home plate yet. He ran in the general direction of the pan, but was too modest to trample upon it. Win Clarke, who was working behind the catcher, knew it, and knows it, but nobody made the claim, and since Waldorf finished the game after Jay Rogers had made a beautiful catch of his foot to harm resulted. However, had Jay watched the runner and made the claim, Clarke was ready to call the runner out.

The Colts scored three in the third. Waldorf became a trifle excited, slipping in a walk between three hits, all of which coupled with heady and fast base-running, brought home three tallies and the game. Do not think, however, that the fourth time when made his leaguer stand for two bases, coming over on Rogers's sacrifice bunt, and Strain's sacrifice left.

Both pitchers did good work with Strain having the better of the argument all the while. Steve Griffin received a painful spike wound in the opening round trying to stop Haddow from stealing. The visiting second baseman's spikes tore into the ball of Griffin's foot, and he will be out for several days. Brennan, who was laid up for repairs to a sore thumb, had to get into the battle with young Noel, slipping around to second. Later Steve was chased by Umpire Kelly for saying something easy to Umpire Clarke.

Outlook in the Capital City League.

Four clubs in the Capital City, with the completion of today's game—Battle Axe, Collegians, Barton Heights and Jacob & Levy—will have finished half their schedule. Many changes can result from the outcome. If the Axes lose and the Collegians to the second honors, should Ashland succeed in taking a fall out of the Grays and Barton Heights out of Battle Axe, and the Collegians win, it would put the latter team the Battle Axe for supreme honors, while should all three top teams lose, practically no change would be made in the standing. On form, however, all three of the top lines should be returned winners. Ashland and the Collegians have added considerable strength due to a trade involving players under contract the beginning of the season.

The Athletics and the Kennelers, of the last End League will meet today in a double-header to decide who will be the leaders of the league. These teams have been tied for first place ever since the league started. Wade and Winn will pitch for the Athletics, while Moran and Peckington will go out for the Kennelers. The first game will start at 3 o'clock.

The Kennels of Richmond will cross bats with the strong Tylers champions this afternoon at Byrd Park at 4:30 o'clock. This game should prove to be a fast one, and both managers are confident of a victory. There seems to be a great deal of rivalry between these two clubs, and they are lauders in the Old Dominion League. Today's game will decide who shall take first place, as both teams have won five and lost two. The Tylers have met the Kennels once this season, and lost the game by the score of 10 to 6, but as they have strengthened will have all they want to contend with today. Greckmora will be on the mound for Kennels, while Henderson will take the helm for Tylers, both of these pitchers have a good record, neither having lost a game during the present season.

SUPERBAS STAR THIRDSACKER

Red Smith, the speedy little third baseman of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who is, in a large measure, responsible for the phenomenal showing made by his team this season. Smith's playing is rapidly making a place for him among the first rank of third base guardians in the major leagues. A timely hitter, Smith has a knack of working his way around the base paths once he reaches first. He is a wonder at killing off the bunts of would-be sacrifice batters.

U. C. T.'S TO PLAY CUMBERLAND TEAM

The Richmond Council, United Commercial Travelers, will hold their annual picnic and baseball game at Cumberland College on July 4, playing the Cumberland Invincibles. The team and routers will leave Eighth and Broad Streets at 8:15 A. M. in automobile, returning to Richmond the same day. The team and routers are as follows:

DAMAGES OF $25,000.

Awarded. Hollbrook's Administratrix Against Norfolk and Western.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Roanoke, Va., June 27.—The work of the June term of the United States District Court was brought to a close this morning, several matters of minor nature being disposed of previous to adjournment. The jury in the case of Hollbrook's administratrix vs. the Norfolk and Western Railway brought in a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, assessing the damage at $25,000. A motion was at once made by the defendant to set aside the verdict, and the matter has been taken under advisement by Judge McDowell. This action has been on trial for about one week. Damages were sought for the alleged wrongful death of the plaintiff, who was a bridge carpenter in the employ of the Norfolk and Western. He was killed by a train while working on a bridge near Pando, Va. Damages to the amount of $25,000 was asked.

FIRE IN NURSES' HOME

Much Excitement Caused, but Little Damage Done by Blazing Curtain.

A fire in the nurses' home at the Memorial Hospital was occasioned last night about 9:30 o'clock when a curtain caught fire on the third floor. The fire was seen by one of the hospital watchmen, who, after summing up the alarm, ran into the building and had practically extinguished the blaze when the apparatus arrived. The damage was trifling, although considerable destruction was caused among about twenty-five nurses, who were in the home at the time. The blaze started by the curtain blowing against a lighted candle.

FAVORITES WIN; TALENT PLEASED

Latonia, Ky., June 27.—Favorites and second choices practically swept the card at Latonia today, the only long shot to annex a purse during the afternoon being Beautiful in the closing race at 6 to 1. The feature event, a sprinting handicap at six furlongs, went to Therman Gill, with Casey Jones, the supposed good thing a bang-up second. Because of the fact that Loftus was aboard Casey Jones, that horse was backed into favoritism, but he never succeeded in heading the Worthington speed marvel, though he did run a much improved race under Loftus's clever handling.

Home Response is reported to have cleaned up handsomely when Penalty took the opening race, and the Canadian contingent engineered a coup on Kifle Brigade.

CHANGES HER PLEA TO "NOT GUILTY"

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

New York, June 27.—Mrs. Katherine Randolph Fitzhugh, who pleaded guilty before Judge Swann in the Court of General Sessions to theft of jewelry and a gold mesh bag, and who was not sentenced because she said her plea was made on the advice of her lawyer, and while she was in a very nervous condition, changed her plea to the indictment to "not guilty" today, and signified her intention of standing trial on both indictments.

Some of the witnesses are absent from the State, however, and it probably will be several weeks before she can be arraigned again.

Mrs. Fitzhugh is accused of stealing a mesh bag from Miss Dorothy Flisk and a gold diamond-studded bracelet from Miss Irene Munacy.

CHILD DROWNS IN BUTTER TUB.

Found by Mother Lying Headforemost in Five Inches of Water.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Norfolk, Va., June 27.—Robert Lee David Frazier, eleven months old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Frazier, was drowned today by falling in an old butter tub, containing about five inches of water, in the kitchen of his home, 814 Cook Avenue. The little fellow was found lying headforemost in the tub by his mother, who had gone in search of him, as he had disappeared while she was upstairs cleaning.

When pulled out of the water the child was still breathing faintly, and Mrs. Frazier tried to resuscitate him while a neighbor telephoned to Dr. Meredith, who lives a short distance away. He arrived within a few minutes, but the child had died in the meantime.

BODIES RECOVERED FROM RIVER.

Found Near Scene of Thursday Night's Fatal Accident.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Elizabeth City, N. C., June 27.—The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene B. Cook, victims of Thursday night's tragedy, were recovered from the Pasquotank River this morning about 9 o'clock, after an all-night search by a score of gas boats.

The bodies were found near the scene of the accident, and were taken ashore near the old Cronsey home. The funeral and interment will take place Saturday.

Mr. Cook was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Cook, and was a promising young business man. Mrs. Cook was Miss Ethel Beveridge before her marriage, a daughter of George Beveridge, a prominent mill man. She was a social favorite.

PIRATES FIND TARS VERY EASY

Portsmouth Hands Norfolk Awful Defeat—Pitcher Herbert Is Overcome by Heat.

Norfolk, Va., June 27.—Norfolk and Portsmouth put up the poorest excuse for a baseball game here to-day that the fans of this city ever witnessed. Norfolk, who started to pitch for Norfolk, proved easy for the Pirates, and after the first inning McCrary took his place. It was a case of swapping the devil for the witch, and the witch proved worse than the devil. Herbert, the Pirates' star twirler, was overcome by heat in the fifth inning, and was relieved by Howell. # GOOBERS BLANKED BY ROANOKE TEAM

Brilliant Fielding Marks Game, in Which Jap Efrid Covers Himself With Glory.

Petersburg, Va., June 27.—Roanoke shut Petersburg out this afternoon in a game in which brilliant and sensational fielding on the part of Roanoke featured. Efrid allowed but five scattered hits but he made eight assists, several of which being phenomenal ones. Ginn, in center field, robbed Petersburg of two hits, one of which culminated in a double play, and Dr. Pressly covered himself with glory, making six assists, one of which was a one-handed stop of a line drive over second base. Hedgpath was hit for ten singles, three of these being in the sixth inning, netting Roanoke two runs, the only ones they should have scored during the game. Mattis figured with his stick, making three hits out of four times up. Umpire Colgate was way off in his work, but the home team did not suffer, as his decisions were, in the main, favorable to them and against the visitors.
